MTI Expands Mobile Enterprise Portfolio With New Acquisition

Hillsboro, Oregon, March 6th, 2014 - Mobile Technologies Inc. \(MTI\), a global leader in mobile device display technologies, announced today the acquisition of ArmorActive, the Salt Lake City based company specializing in tablet accessories and enclosures for business applications.

“ArmorActive is a worldwide pioneer in developing solutions that facilitate the use of tablets within business environments,” said Chris Remy, CEO of MTI. “With the acquisition of ArmorActive’s 100+ SKU product portfolio, excellent brand name and strong marketing presence, we are combining ArmorActive’s knowledge of mobile enterprise solutions with MTI’s technical and global services capabilities. This combination will provide a very unique value proposition to customers looking to use tablets in support of their business.”

"Merging with MTI is strategic to our goal of developing the most sophisticated security products for mobile computing," said Scott Paul, CEO of ArmorActive. "Their capabilities to engineer and deploy products will increase our ability to meet global demand. We are especially interested in how this merger allows us to bring the MTI product line to our customers, along with their tablet support and service team. ArmorActive was a first-mover in the tablet kiosk marketplace, and now with MTI we plan to break new ground with greater momentum."

MTI has over one million mobile device security positions installed globally with some of the world's most recognized brands as well as six of the seven largest retailers in the United States, all of whom utilize MTI's cost-effective yet powerful loss prevention solutions. The newly forged partnership will see the two businesses combine their strengths to create the #1 solution based company in the mobile enterprise industry.
